Collaboration with IPPF included exchange of information and publications, joint participation in international workshops, in training activities and in technical meetings. Consultation with IPPF continued, particularly for the preparation of contraceptive guidelines.

In countries of the Region where there are local family planning associations affiliated to IPPF (Fiji, the Philippines, Solomon Islands, Tonga and Vanuatu), close cooperation continued between the established maternal and child health and family planning programmes and the local IPPF branches.

Local workshops, training activities, needs assessments and dissemination of contraceptives as an essential element of primary health care were jointly promoted or supported by IPPF and WHO.
